

BOVIE – THE INVENTOR OF ELECTROSURGERY

The first use of the Bovie® electrosurgical generator in an operating room was on October 1, 1926, at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital in Boston, Massachusetts. A few days earlier (September 28, 1926) Dr. Cushing had been unsuccessful in removing a mass from a patient's head due to its highly vascular nature. In Dr. Cushing's notes from October 1st, "...with Dr. Bovie's help I proceeded to take off most satisfactorily the remaining portion of tumor with practically none of the bleeding which was occasioned in the preceding operation."

Over seventy-five years later, we continue to improve the work of Dr. Bovie. The following pages represent our product line, including four Bovie electrosurgical generators and three high frequency desiccators. The work continues today, but our sincere thanks go out to Dr. Cushing and William T. Bovie for their incredible invention.

Bovie Medical Corporation is a public company on the NYSE Amex Market and can be found under the symbol BVX.

HIGH-TEMPERATURE CAUTERIES

Bovie® Medical has been the number one manufacturer of battery operated cauteries for decades. The safety-enhanced, snap-design cautery is the only battery-operated cautery in the world to address known safety hazards of improper disposal. The improved patent-pending cautery offers a safety-enhanced design, with a recessed button to reduce the potential for inadvertent activation. Bovie also modified the cautery units to allow the practitioner to “snap off” the end of the cautery for safe and effective removal of the battery power source.
